'Dark Victory' tickets now available for next weekend

Reserved seats for the University Players' spring production, "Dark Victory" are available at the box office on main floor. Day school students may obtain them upon presentation of their activity cards.

General admission is .75. The box office is open from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. and from 6 to 7 p. m.

The drama will be presented April 13 and 14 at 8:15 p. m. in the university auditorium.

As sales to the general public begin Monday students are urged to get theirs today.

Leads

Leads for the play are Marilyn Sibert as Judith Traherne, the willful society belle to whom love comes as a pathetically short interlude to death, and James Mason as the young surgeon who falls in love with her.

"Dark Victory" was a starring role for Tallulah Bankhead on the stage, and an Academy Award vehicle for Bette Davis. Dorothy McGuire recently appeared in the TV version.

Cast members

Other cast members are Lee Houghton, Jack Dunlevy, Gwen Arner, Mary Rispler, Don Sarcoian, Bob Russell, Phyllis Gordon, Helen Holtz, Harry Langdon, Bonnie Wilson, Burl Robbins and Bill Pierson.

Written by George Brewer, Jr., former OSS operative, and Bertram Bloch, veteran movie scripter and author, the dramatic love story is being directed by Frances McChesney Key.

Student manager

Harry Langdon is student director and Del Hansen is student manager.

Rehearsals have been in progress for the last month and, according to Mrs. Key, "the play is shaping up nicely, with everything pointing to fine performances next weekend."

Petitions for Ma-ie Day emcee due April 11

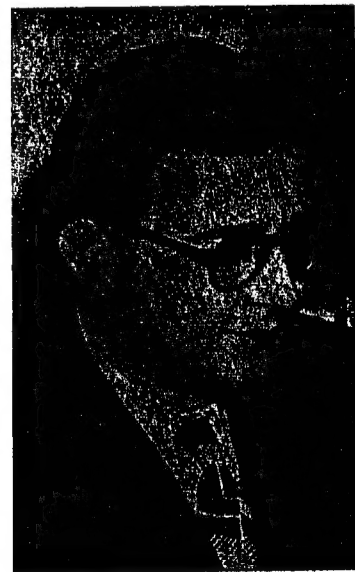

Petitions for master of ceremonies for the Ma-ie Day skits will be accepted in the Dean of Students' office until 3 p. m. Wednesday, April 11.

Students applying for the positions will have their academic eligibility checked by the Deans office.

Agee resigns as alumni secretary; Pflasterer will take over position

Dale Agee, executive secretary of the University of Omaha Alumni Association, has resigned to take a position as superintendent of the International Airport at San Juan, Puerto Rico. Agee will leave April 13.

Donald J. Pflasterer, head basketball coach, and an alumnus of the university, class of '41, will serve temporarily as alumni secretary, it was announced by President Milo Ball. Pflasterer joined the university athletic staff in 1946 after four years with the Army Air Corps and was made head basketball coach in 1948.

Dale Agee

At the university, Pflasterer was a football star and competed in basketball and track and was named outstanding athlete in the North Central Conference. After graduation he taught physical education at Harlan, Iowa, High School. Pflasterer has been a member of the alumni board since Jan-

Entries in sing contest fall due

Registration for OU's first annual all-campus sing has been extended till 5 p. m. Monday, April 9.

Representatives of organizations may sign up in the Dean of Students office. They should also be prepared to give the name of the organization sing chairman. Any organization, other than an exclusively musical one, may enter.

The sing will be held early in May under the sponsorship of Waakiya and Omicron Delta Kappa. Prizes will be awarded in a men's division and a women's division. The singing groups may include from 16 to 24 voices.

"We hope the sing will eventually become a tradition," Gordon Severa, ODK president, commented. "Right now we want to complete the registration so groups can start practicing," he added. By late Wednesday evening, three groups had entered the competition—Alpha Xi Delta, Zeta Tau Alpha and Sigma Phi Epsilon.

Competing groups will sing two songs, a contest song and a song of their own choice.

Junior Prom set for tonight at Peony Park

For the second time in OU history a Junior Prom Queen will be crowned tonight. The coronation ceremony will be the highlight of the annual Junior Prom, scheduled for 9 p.m. to midnight in the Peony Park Ballroom.

OU debate team will meet national champs in Thursday's convo

OU debaters Gene Step and Ralph Selby will clash with Nebraska Wesleyan's national championship team of Don Whitehead and Dean Lanning at a debate convo Thursday in the auditorium.

Step and Selby will debate the negative and Whitehead and Lanning will uphold the affirmative of this year's question, Resolved: That the non-Communist nations should form a new international organization.

Classes will be shortened for the 9:30 meet. The debate will mark the second convocation of this type this year.

Arrangements are under way to hold a convocation debate at Doane College in the near future.

Morning convo features ballad arrangements by famous 'I Come for to Sing' quartet

A folk music revival spread through Omaha University last Wednesday with the arrival of the "I Come for to Sing" quartet of Studs Terkel, Win Straecke, Big Bill Broonzy and Lawrence Lane.

The balladeers had a busy day, appearing at an hour long convocation for day students, an afternoon Coffee Hour and a two-hour program for evening students and guests.

At the morning session Studs Terkel, music expert and disc jockey, narrated, presenting a humorous, historical background for each song.

Without accompaniment Lawrence Lane, tenor, sang the popular English ballads, "I'm Just a Poor Wayfaring Stranger" and "Greensleeves."

"Blues great"

Big Bill Broonzy, all time "blues" great, strummed his guitar as he sang tunes as "Keys to the Highway" and the story of "John Henry."

Win Straecke presented humorous interpretations of "Big Rock Candy Mountain" and "Rye-Whiskey—Cold Water."

The evening assembly lasted two hours, extending the morning convocation, during which the balladeers honored requests of a large audience.

Coffee Hour

At an informal Coffee Hour at 2 p. m. Straecke gave students and faculty members a criteria for judging folk potentialities of a song. Tin Pan Alley tunes, he said, are usually abstract; folk tunes deal with a specific situation.

But Terkel and Straecke stressed that they are not "purists"—they believe that all kinds of music—pops, jazz, classic and ballads can be mixed and enjoyed.

Competition for the title will be from only four candidates: Joan Bugbee, Nancy Hileman, June Williams and Jackie Zerbe. They were elected by their classmates at the recent junior-freshman election.

Mal Dunn

Setting the dance rhythm for all OU students will be Mal Dunn and his orchestra. The dance, sponsored by the junior class is semi-formal. Each student will cast the ballot for his Prom Queen choice at the entrance to the ballroom.

Intermission ceremonies will be emceed by President Dean Brown. Brown is being helped in dance plans by Vice President Bernie Anderson, Secretary-treasurer Fred Pisasale, and Student Council representatives Dick Beem, Nancy Jones, Ben Tobias and Miss Williams.

Admission

Admission to the dance is free to all those attending the university. Tickets for guests may be purchased today at the first floor ticket office and this evening at the Peony Park ticket window. The ticket price is set at .76.

Final plans for the dance were completed at a Wednesday noon meeting. An entirely new procedure in presenting the Prom Queen has been promised by the Prom Committee.

Sponsors

Sponsors for the Prom are Mr. and Mrs. George Pritchard, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Rice, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Wardle and Mr. and Mrs. William Utley.

Concert Band gives sixth radio concert on KOIL

The OU Concert Band, under the direction of Dr. Robert Feister, presented its sixth 15-minute radio concert Wednesday at 9:30 p. m. Radio station KOIL made the transcribed broadcast.

Selections played were "Trumpet Tune," by Purcell; "Semonetta Serenade," by Curzon; "Beautiful Colorado," by de Luca, and "Esprit de Corps," an original by Dr. Feister.

Bruce A. Linton, director of radio, was in charge of the transcription.

IT'S THE GOSPEL ACCORDING TO Jo Larkin...

Spring has finally come around the corner. Gardens are beginning to show little green tips of flowers, classes are getting fewer and emptier. Even the professors are gazing longingly out of the windows and rambling on. Well, it's about time.

This school is getting a severe case of B. O. and it is not from overactivity. It could be spring but the fact that Brains Only stay out here after classes, or sit in the shack or even the library is disturbing when compared to only a few months ago.

We've got some real writers in this school. They get paid. Sally Step is associate editor of TV Showtime, a weekly magazine devoted to the best interests of television. Berk Forsythe writes a regular Luella Parsons Column about all the T. V. programs. Don Saroian writes record parade, and Bob Skudlarek writes a sports column. They could get a few plugs in about OU activities.

The Morals squad better get on the tail of Timers' Drive-in. They've got a loose neon sign reading "Timers' Hot to Go." The "Food" burned out.

The innocence of youth... Three small boys were boasting about the bulging paychecks their respective dads' brought home. Said the first, "All my dad does is put a few notes on a piece of lined paper and the song sellers pay him $1000." Heck, said the second little boy, "all my dad does is put paint splashes on a piece of paper and he gets $2000 for it".

"That's nothin'," said the third, "my dad just stands up in front of a lot of people and says a speech and it takes eight men to carry up his money up the aisle."

From all reports the University Players new play "Dark Victory" is shaping up very well. The play is so dramatic that the east is exhausted after rehearsals.

Thought... She was the kind of girl you'd like to bring home to mother, if you thought you could trust father.

Future dates creeping up... Junior Prom tonight... Alum dance tomorrow night... Sig Ep Sweetheart Dance on April 20... Ma-ie Day May 11.

Conversation overheard... John: "Darling, let's have a secret love code. If you nod, I hold your hand, if you smile I can kiss your lips."

Jean: "Don't make me laugh."
The Balladeers gave the best entertainment OU has seen for a long time at the convo Wednesday. I wish I could play a guitar. A good many students returned for the evening performance too.

The unexpected... in the short story class the prof asked during a discussion why a certain character left town. An immediate answer came booming from the next room where a rowdy discussion was being carried on, "Because he had four kids."

Ballad quartet sees need for folk music

Brought together by the idea that all men like the simple clear, good tune of their heritage, the four balladeers have given us a look see into emotions of our ancestors.

Win Stracke, American ballad singer, used to be known for his dramatic and serious interpretation of Brahms and Schubert. "Shubert used to play the guitar, in fact, he composed all his songs on the instrument," said Stracke. "In those days there wasn't the great gap between folk and serious music as there today."

"Big" Bill Broonzy, all-time blues singer, was cited as once saying that his sister, who was intensely religious, refused to let him in her home with his guitar. Studs Terkel, narrator said, "It is very difficult to find a blues singer who is also an outstanding singer of spirituals."

Now some take Greek and some take math,
Their tastes just aren't alike.
But ask them all what brand they smoke—
The answer's "Lucky Strike!"

A break for high schoolers . . .

"There's been some changes made," the saying goes. And this saying, we think, can be applied particularly to the university's attitude toward high school seniors this year.

Of course, the university is perhaps motivated partly by selfish reasons. The threat of the draft makes it necessary to attract a large number of freshmen next year. But, regardless of that, the university is performing a real service for Omaha young people by letting them know what opportunities exist at their university.

A good example of this new attitude occurred during spring vacation. High school seniors made their annual trek to the university to take scholarship exams. But this year they had a chance to see something besides the Ohio State reading and comprehension test.

At noon OU treated them to a simple but friendly luncheon. They were introduced to the deans of the colleges and to other administrative officers. Members of Omicron Delta Kappa and Waokiya were on hand to answer questions about university life. The members then conducted the seniors on informal tours of the building.

All during this year the seniors have been receiving pamphlets describing the academic and extra-curricular opportunities at the University of Omaha. Gradually the old idea of "West Dodge High" is being broken down. And, to the benefit of the university, the community and the young people, high school seniors are learning that real "college life" is available in their home town. T.N.T.

Go Lucky!

LUCKIES TASTE BETTER THAN ANY OTHER CIGARETTE!

Fine tobacco—and only fine tobacco—can give you the perfect mildness and rich taste that make a cigarette completely enjoyable. And Lucky Strike means fine tobacco. So if you're not happy with your present brand (and a 38-city survey shows that millions are not), switch to Luckies. You'll find that Luckies taste better than any other cigarette. Be Happy—Go Lucky today!

When Yale plays Harvard in a game,
One of the two must lose,
But you will always pick the champ,
If Lucky Strikes you choose.

Ineligibility benches five OU trackmen

by Vic O'Connor

Coach Lloyd Cardwell summed up this year's OU track picture as a "building" process.

Five leading prospects have been termed ineligible. They are Lettermen Don Bahnsen, Ray Beal, and Cleveland Marshall. Bill Crites, who just missed lettering last year as a high jumper, and Ted Marcuzzo, freshman sprinter, were the other ineligible.

Armed services grabbed four of Cardwell's prospects. They are John Whalen, Gene Hines, Merrill Gee, and Dick Lambert. They had been counted upon heavily to bolster the Indian cinder picture.

Load on Nalty

With the loss of these nine men, the scoring load will fall upon Joe Nalty, sophomore sprinter. Nalty ran the century in :09.9 three times last year.

Cardwell expressed hope that Nalty would participate in the 100, 220, broad jump and relays this season.

Other standouts are Bernie Anderson, mile and two mile, Roy Carlson, 440 and sprint relays, Lorelle Alford, 440 and pole vault, Bob Moscrey, sprints, and weight man Charlie Anderson has a good chance of making the team, but a heavy scholastic schedule may hamper him.

Spring 'mural signing up

Deadline for the entry list in golf, tennis, and softball in the spring 'mural program is Tuesday. All entries are to be made to Ernie Gorr 'mural director.

'Mural track meet will be held the week of April 16. At present, no deadline for entries has been made.

Christies Lead

The Christie brothers, Keith and Dick, are expected to pace the "field" candidates. Keith pole vaults and runs in the sprint relays. Dick puts the shot and discus. Howard Byram and Larry Johnson will give added power in the weight division.

Cardwell said that his team would be strong in the 100, 220, shot, mile and two mile events.

Other candidates include: Dick Letner, Doug Alford, Jack Peterson, Bob Stevens, John Swanson, Wayne Wagner, Luther Bess, Ron Woodie, Carroll Hakerson, Jerry Ziehe, and Joe Arenas.

Meet Schedule

April 13 Quadrangular (Wesleyan), Dana, Wesleyan, Concordia, OU.
April 14 South Dakota Invitational.
April 19 Quadrangular (Omaha) Doane, Peru, Washburn, OU.
April 21 Kansas Relays.
April 24 Triangular (Simpson) Iowa Central, Simpson, OU.

Wesleyan plays Omaha Tuesday

Nebraska Wesleyan University will furnish the Indian nine the first home opposition of the season. The Plainsmen will go against Omaha at Fontenelle Park Tuesday.

This is the first of a seventeen game schedule, not counting the two games already played in Arkansas.

Again appearing on the Omaha schedule is South Dakota State. They were the only team to beat Omaha last year, to mar an otherwise perfect season. But the Omahans came back the next day to prove their superiority over the South Dakotans.

Both games against South Dakota State are set for Brookings, So. Dak. It will be a two-day double header, as the two teams meet Friday and Saturday, May 18 and 19.

Also slated for an April game, is Buena Vista College of Storm Lake, Iowa. The Iowans gave

Golf tryouts open today

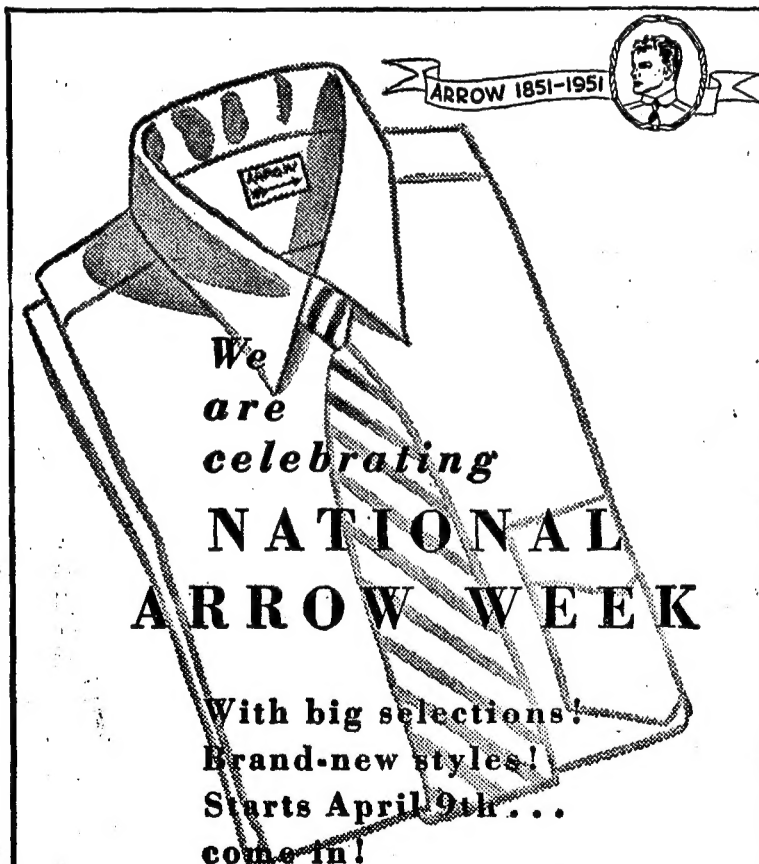

Golf coach John Campbell announced that tryouts for the Omaha U link squad will be held today and tomorrow. So far inclement weather has kept the golfers off the soggy fairway and greens, but recent mild conditions have given the Indians a break.

Netsters face ten games on schedule

With warm weather comes a chance for the tennis squad to put in some valuable practice on the Omaha U courts. The next of ten contests slated for the crew is a match with Tarkio College to be played here.

Starting April 9th . . .

NATIONAL ARROW WEEK

celebrating Arrow's 100 Years of style leadership

Campus life has certainly changed these past 100 years. Back in 1851 there were only 160 colleges in the entire country. Today, there are 1,849. No Rose Bowl game at the end of the football season in those days. No football season as a matter of fact. Open surreys were standard equipment of college Romeos—there wasn't a cream-colored convertible on the landscape. It was then, a century ago, that Arrow started manufacturing their famous collars . . . and in a few years they were setting campus styles. That's one thing that hasn't changed. Arrow is still style leader on America's campuses. College men everywhere know that the Arrow label always stands for smart styles, fine fabrics, meticulous tailoring . . . the superior quality that reflects good taste.

Alumni Association will be dance hosts to OU seniors

Group plans third 'Lang Syne' party

Omaha University's Alumni Association will be hosts to the senior class tomorrow night at the third annual Lang Syne Dance. The festivities will be held at the Fontenelle Hotel.

Preceding the dance a social hour will take place at 7:30 p. m. in the King Cole Room. The informal dance will start at 8:30 in the Amber Room. Gary Peniston has been contracted to furnish the music for the alumni and guests. Dale Agee, alumni secretary, stated that he expects approximately 500 to attend. So far, 250 alumni have made reservations.

Jim Ross will act as master of ceremonies. The entertainment will be furnished by singer Helen Holtz, pianist Jim McPherson and impersonator Don Bendell. Agee also stressed the importance of seniors being prepared to show their age identification if they should be asked to do so. A senior list will be checked at the door.

Tickets are being sold by ten sales teams composed of alumni members. The cost for alumni and their guests is $1.20 per person. Seniors will be admitted without charge as guests of the association.

Sigma Kappa to welcome president

The Sigma Kappa heard a representative from a charm school at their meeting Wednesday evening at the Paxton Hotel.

The sorority made plans for the coming visit of Mrs. Kathryn Lowery, national president of Sigma Kappa. She is expected to be in Omaha April 21 and 22. The Province convention for the sorority will be held May 5 and 6 at the University of Kansas, Lawrence, Kansas. It was originally scheduled for Saturday and Sunday but was postponed.

Reports on Ma-ie Day progress were made at the meeting. Carol Miles was in charge of purchasing a new neon sign for the sorority. The sign was displayed at the Greek Week banquet last Friday. Jodie Pierce was appointed as Sigma Kappa's chairman for the coming all-school sing next month.

Kappa Mu sets date for musical program

Kappa Mu Lambda has set May 3 for a tentative date for their annual Music Convocation.

The fraternity held a meeting last Thursday. Dick Carlson was put in charge of the convocation to be held at the university.

They also made plans for Ma-ie Day activities. Roland Klopfleisch is the committee chairman for this event. Other committee chairmen appointed were Paul Thompson, social, and Douglas Forbes, publicity.

Sunday at dinner meeting, the Kappa Mu's met with a national representative to consider going national. Bill Fitzsimmons is in charge of the committee to make plans for any future affiliation.

Theta picks editor for frat's newspaper

Work is under way on a four-page newspaper to be published by Theta Phi Delta.

The paper, which will be printed about the first of May, will tell of the fraternity's activities during the past year. Copies will be sent to Theta alumni, members and their parents. Bob Hansen is editor of the publication.

The Theta's attended services at the First Lutheran Church Sunday morning. The group had breakfast together at the Blackstone Hotel before the services.

Sig Ep's reveal five Candidates vie for 'Sweetheart' Title

Five candidates for "Sig Ep Sweetheart" were chosen at the fraternity's meeting Tuesday night in the Student Lounge.

The "Sweetheart" will be announced at the fraternity's dance to be held April 20 at the Carter Lake Club. The candidates are Barbara Galloway, Chi Omega; Joan Farris, Zeta Tau Alpha; Charlotte Longville, Alpha Xi Delta; Mary Ann Kardell, Gamma Sigma Omicron, and Joan Pierce, Sigma Kappa.

Don Sarocian has been chosen Sig Ep chairman for the all-school sing next month. Also at the meeting, Ma-ie Day committees, the social chairman and the athletic director made their reports.

Alpha Xi's report on Ma-ie Day progress

Alpha Xi Delta members held their regular meeting Wednesday night in the east cafeteria. Reports were given by committee chairmen concerning Ma-ie Day and the sorority's Founder's Day.

Gamma Delta chapter and the Omaha Alumni will hold their annual Founder's Day celebration with a banquet at the Omaha Country Club.

Lefitz plans Phi Ep skit for Ma-ie Day

Leonard Lefitz of Phi Epsilon Pi has been appointed to head the skit committee for Ma-ie Day. His committee will consist of Norman Goldenberg, Jerry Belzer and Jack Katz.

Lefitz is also chairman for the all-school sing which will take place the first of May.

Alpha Lambda's, Phi Eta's initiate and pledge freshmen in ceremonies

Women's organization held pledging for nine new members yesterday at 4

The freshmen national honor societies conducted initiation and pledging for new members this week. Alpha Lambda Delta held pledging yesterday for nine freshman women, and Phi Eta Sigma held their initiation Tuesday for eight freshman men.

The Alpha Lambda's held their ceremonies in room 100 at 4 p. m. The honorees are Gwen Arner, Connie Decker, Joyce Erdkamp, Letitia Frazier and Doris Hugenberg. Others are Patricia Livingston, Joan Olsen, Sally Penny and Diane Purdy.

All these students made a scholastic average of 3.5 or above during the first semester of this year in order to qualify for membership in the OU chapter of this national scholastic society.

Phi Eta Sigma conducted their initiation Tuesday afternoon in the Faculty Clubroom. Following their initiation, there was a banquet in honor of the new members. Rabbi Myer S. Eripke was the guest speaker at the banquet.

F. H. Gorman was made an honorary member of Phi Eta Sigma. The new initiates are Angelo Amato, Harry Golding, Claus Heyden, Frederick Homan, Hugo Kahn, Robert Keim, Burton McMillan and Lawrence Moore, Jr.

Donald C. Hansen, president of the OU chapter, was the toastmaster at the banquet.

Delta Sig's will hear public utilities talk

Russell E. Anderson will be the guest speaker at the Delta Sigma Pi meeting tomorrow. The fraternity will meet in the Student Lounge at 7 p. m.

Anderson, of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co., will talk on public utilities. Members of Phi Theta Chi, the new sorority for women of Business Administration, will be the guests of the Gamma Eta Chapter.

Home Ec Club plan tea for mothers

The Home Economic Club set April 17 as the date for their Mother-Daughter Tea. The tea will be held in the Faculty Clubroom from 3 to 5 p. m.

Bonnie and LaVonne Kundel are the general co-chairmen for the event. Marianne Hentschke is in charge of the refreshments; Alyce Beachler, decorations; Barbara Wilkerson, invitations, and Harriett Burbridge, open house.
